

The second program, "Music Under the Stars," will feature disc jockey music, and live local bands. It will also have "Country Western Nights," which will teach residents how to dance to this particular music.

"Music Under the Stars" will be held from 8 to 11 p.m. on Thursday nights from June 15 to July 27, Dillow said.

Each week, "Music Under the Stars" the Stars" will be held, but "Club Teen" made its debut last year.

The High School Recreation Committee, which is made up of Batavia High School students, will do its best to promote the programs, and to provide input as to what students want from the programs, Dillow said. A Middle School Recreation Committee will also be formed, she added.

Power outage cause undetermined

by Michael McCulloh

A power outage from about 9:30 to 10:40 a.m. forced police to place stop signs at major intersections on the city's west side and the northeast industrial park area. The cause of the power outage was not determined.

Electrical Superintendent Hank Vejvoda said that workers only know that the problem originated on the west side, and can only surmise the origin of the power failure.

other members of this group. Vaughn was transferred to Central DuPage Hospital in Winfield a few weeks after the accident.

There were conflicting reports on how the accident occurred, so no official statement has been released.

Vaughn is in her second year of teaching at Batavia High School.
